THRIVING TOGETHER

A Blueprint for Growth

CALIFORNIA WOMEN LAWYERS ANNUAL CONFERENCE

april 8, 2022 | oakland marriott city center

Session 1: Fill Your Cup First | 10:15am - 12:00pm

MCLE - 0.5 hours of Recognition and Competence credit/ 1.25 hours of general credit

For many of us, caring for ourselves comes last on the priority list—a tendency exacerbated by the pandemic. But being honest about our needs is critical to ensuring a competent practice and a fulfilling life. How do we identify when and why we are struggling? How can we communicate with compassion and confidence to help ourselves while still supporting those around us? Is there an alternative to continuing to witness women abandoning the practice of law? The experienced leaders on this panel will discuss practices and tools you can use now to fill your own cup first to maximize your mental health and well-being.

Panelists:

- Stacey Dana, JD, MS, LMFT, Counseling and Consulting
- Anne J. Kepner, Esq., Partner, Needham Kepner & Fish
- Shauna Madison, Esq. Managing Partner, Medina Orthwein
- Moderator: Tracy Schimelfenig, Esq., Chief Legal Officer, TruEvolution

Session 2: Cultivating Your Strengths | 1:30pm - 3:15pm

MCLE - 0.5 hours of Recognition & Elimination of Bias credit | 1.25 hours of general credit

Using a case study approach, this session will address key issues affecting women lawyers, including common barriers to career progression and satisfaction like discrimination, work-life imbalance, and compensation. The panel will identify the foundational things you need to know to achieve the balance that works for you, to learn how to ask for what you want while supporting others in their development, and contribute to a culture where people work at their highest and best purpose.

Panelists:

- Jay Kim, Esq., Partner in In-House Counsel Recruiting, Major, Lindsey & Africa
- Jen Grondahl Lee, Esq., Founder, Jen Lee Law
- Jessica Stender, Esq., Policy Director and Deputy Legal Director, Equal Rights Advocates
- Moderator: Ana M. Storey, Esq., CWL President

Session 3: Your Personal Blueprint for Growth 3:30pm – 5:15pm

In the last session of the day, participants will “design” their own personal blueprints for growth. We will first hear from our incredibly accomplished panelists and moderator about their own paths to success and how they have navigated obstacles, risk and change. The last part of the session will feature tools and exercises to help participants reflect on and commit to new goals. Leave this session with tangible next steps to move forward in your career.

Panelists:

- Greta Hansen, Esq., Chief Assistant County Counsel for Santa Clara County
- April Madison-Ramsey, Senior University Counsel, Stanford University
- Dianne Jackson McLean, Esq., Partner, Goldbard & Lipman LLP
